The Ohio flows through several States, and thereby through several engineering districts or waterway groupings. The engineering districts are those of Nashville and Chattanooga, Tenn.; Louisville, Ky.; Cincinnati, Ohio; Wheeling, W. Va.; and Pittsburgh, Pa. Almost all these offices have charge of some portions of the improvement works on the Ohio. For the sake of clearness, however, and for the sake of getting together all the data about Ohio River, the data concerning it is grouped in this work (but not in the reports of the Chief of Engineers, U. S. Army), under the significant letter of the 1st Cincinnati (Ohio) District, i. e., "CC."

The following is a list of the notable points on the river from the mouth at Cairo, Ill., to the headwaters at Pittsburgh, Pa., and each point is numbered according to this order. The abstracts, or parts, already referred to are numbered on this basis, and they are printed in that order.

CC-1(d) General facts concerning Ohio River.

"Ohio River (general open-channel improvement).—This work was commenced by the General Government in 1827, when low-water navigation over many of the bars and shoals was impossible for commercial purposes; but the improvements made and maintained since then have provided fairly convenient channels at such places for a profitable light-draft local freight and passenger service during low-water periods. The difference in level of water surface of the river varies; at Cincinnati, nearly midway between the head and mouth of the river, the average annual range during the past 30 years is 48.6 feet.

"The project under which operations have been carried on has been a continuous and progressive one, the principal features of the work being the removal of snags, rocks, and wrecks from the general channel; the direct improvement of bars and shoals, by dredging and rock excavation; the construction, repair, and maintenance of low dikes and dams to concentrate and direct the flow of water in improved channels; bank protection and the construction and repair of levees where required in the interest of navigation; the construction, repair, and maintenance of ice piers and harbors; miscellaneous improvement, including surveys, establishment of harbor lines, regulation of encroachment and deposits on the banks of the river or in its channel, and the supervision of construction of bridges across the river. The length of river through which the work extends is but little short of 1,000 miles. * * * 12, 883.

Commerce.—"The commerce of the river during the past year, so far as indicated by statistics that the engineer officer in charge of the river has been able to obtain, was as follows: General merchandise, coal, etc., 12,046,294.5 short tons, at an estimated value of $82,074,878.77; passengers, 8,827,365." 12, 883.

Locks and dams.—Prior to the project authorized 1910 various lock and dam works had been authorized. Perhaps the earliest beginning of the system of locks and dams is covered in the instance of the Louisville and Portland Canal, at Louisville. This was a private enterprise, stock in which was acquired by the U.S. in 1826; later on complete control was obtained, the U.S. buying the outstanding bonds. The dam at Davis Island forms a good example of the movable dam system of canalizing streams. 12, 1277.

The new lock and dam system. 12, 1277.—Act of June 25, 1910, authorized the canalization of the Ohio with locks and dams, from Pittsburgh to the mouth, 54 in all, to gain navigable depth of 9 feet, in accordance with H. D. 492, 60th Cong., 1st sess., or such modification thereof, as in the discretion of the Secretary of War, may be advisable, the work to be completed in 12 years. Prior to the adoption of this project Congress had provided for the completion of at least 12 locks and dams. H. D. 492 referred to estimates $63,731,488 in addition to appropriations already made. At 1912, 26 of these works had been completed, or begun, leaving 28 to be begun under future appropriations. Out of the lump appropriations made for the system, a special Board of Engineers makes allotments for specific parts of the work. The following is a table of such allotments up to 1912:

CC-1 (e) Appropriations, etc., for Ohio River.

NOTE.—It is impracticable to attempt to reconcile the different reports of appropriations and allotments; this is particularly true of the earlier reports. The clearest view of Ohio River funds is had, perhaps, by taking the appropriations listed in the reports of 1912, and adding to them additional items listed in H. D. 421, 57th Cong., 2d sess., which is done according to the following tables.

In addition to the sums specified below, the combination appropriations referred to on page 1090 should be considered.

Statement of C. passing Falls by canal and by R., 1880 to 1887, 87, 1852.

Dry-dock facilities on Ohio R., 87, 1896-1901.

Large and important; chiefly coal. Decrease of shipments in 1893 probably due to ice and l. w., 93, 2545, 2546; 94, 1930.

Indiana Chute: Important; coal traffic largest, 93, 2551; 96, 2225. Coal tows, if the stage of water is less than 10', must be broken up and passed through the canal, a tedious and expensive operation. A coal-boat stage usually brings many tows together, and it often happens that before all have passed the canal, the water falls to a point which prevents their further progress until another rise occurs. When Indiana Chute is navigable for descending tows on an 8' stage, all delays of coal tows will be avoided, 96, 2225.

1899 to 1903, about 4,035,000 t. and 1,563,650 passengers, 04, 2705.

Imp. believed to have had considerable influence in reducing transportation charges and regulating rates, 06, 548.

Convened, 1871, to ex. new locks (Louisville and Portland Canal) and report cause of failure of miter sills (Nov. 23, 1871), and plan for repair or modification. PROJECTS.

Canal built by private corporation under Ky. charter of 1825 and subsequent years; completed 1830; having 3 locks, each with lift of 8½'±, w. of 50', l. of 200'. W. of canal, 64-68', with d. of nearly 3' at ex. low stages. There was no dam at head of canal. U. S. became stockholder, 1826, and finally bought all certificates. 1860, the canal enlarged and extended; w. increased to 90', with 3 basins; 2 new lift locks built with lift of 26' (80' x 350'), opened 1872. In 1874 entire control assumed by U. S., under act May 11, 1874, the canal to be free of all tolls and charges, except such as are necessary to pay the current expenses of said canal and keep the same in repair. Tolls abolished entirely, 1880.

General proj. covers operation, mainten., and dr., 04, 489; 12, 935, 936. Interest of U. S. in canal, special report of Treas. Dept., H. Mis. Doc. 83, 40th Cong., 2d sess. Freeing tolls, H. Rept. 348, 46th Cong., 2d sess.

Canal is available to C. at all stages of R. less than 12.7' upper canal gauge, and affords free navigation around the Falls of the Ohio R. at stages of water when the passage can not be made by R. chan. Under regulations of Sec. of War max. draft of boats is limited to d. above zero at time boats enter canal, 12, 936.

PROJECTS. (See Estimates and Plans.)

By Maj. Merrill, 1879, slack-water navigation for draft of 6' on Kentucky R., mouth to Three Forks, 258 m., repairing old locks and dams, and constr. 12 new locks and dams; est., $1,074,402, 79, 1399; 80, 1826.

In 1883, after total app. of $550,000, Capt. Post revised est. and concluded that $2,471,639.26 would be required to complete proj., 83, 1562.

Plan and location of Lock and Dam No. 6, as proposed by Maj. Post, approved by B.E. of 1887, 87, 1880. The B.E. of 1887 considered the chutes at the Beattyville movable dam did not meet requirements of navigation, and that the st. lock and dam orig. contemplated should be substituted, 87, 1881, 1884.

By Maj. Lockwood, 1893-94, building Lock No. 7 a short distance below High Bridge, 94, 1980.

In 1893, Maj. Lockwood est. that by increasing the lift of the locks above No. 6 navigation could be extended to Three Forks, with 9 additional dams and locks; est., $2,740,782.30. Est., Lock No. 7, in course of constr., $300,000, 96, 2287; 98, 2013.

In 1894 the Chief of Engineers sanctioned use of st. cut for the Beattyville Dam to constr. Lock No. 7, 96, 2287.

In 1898, Capt. Warren believed that by increasing the lift of the remaining locks to be built to 18' only 7 more would be required, to cost $4,865,550, as against $5,179,200 for locks, etc., with 15' lift. Chief of Engineers approved, 1898, the plans, etc., for Lock No. 8, providing for a lift of 18', 98, 2015.

Capt. Hodges est., 1899, it would cost $2,560,000 in excess of the sums app. to complete proj., 99, 438.

Capt. Hodges, 1899-1900, reported cost of the complete imp. would exceed, by a large sum, the limit of au. for continuing contracts, and that this limit would probably be reached while the last 4 locks and dams would be untouched or incomplete, 00, 501.

Orig. working proj., at 1912, covers, with modifications, repair and rebuilding of 5 locks and dams, and the constr. of 9 addl. locks and dams; est., $4,865,550, 12, 925.

Boards:

1874. To determine and R., in the proj. for connecting the navigable waters of the James and Ohio Rs., as to practicability, plan, cost, and probable time of execution, and benefits to C. to be derived therefrom, 74, 89, ii, 86, 124. Conclusions: Entirely practicable to connect said Rs. by water navigation 7' d., involving the enlargement of existing canal on James R. and its extension to the Greenbrier R., together with the constr. of summit tunnel, and water supply for summit level, and the extension of water communication from Greenbrier R. to the mouth of the Great Kanawha R., 74, ii, 89, 94, 115, 121, 129; 77, 677. Concerning the plan, minor differences of opinion exist as to dimensions and arrangement of locks on that portion which shall be canal, i. e., from Richmond to Greenbrier R., majority favoring increased lock dimensions both on canal and slack-water imp.; suggest further ex. for location of tunnel, 74, ii, 90, 93, 111, 117, 129; 75, ii, 630, 632; 77, 675. Unanimously recom. single tunnel 34' x 34' with recesses for passing boats, 74, ii, 90, 100, 128; 77, 685. Concerning imp. of Greenbrier, New, and Kanawha Rs. by locks and dams, a difference of opinion exists as to its applicability, requiring further surs. to finally adjust, 74, ii, 91, 93, 97, 112, 117, 119, 121, 128; 75, ii, 632. Cost and probable time of execution: In the opinion of the majority, a water communication, with a d. of 7', can be obtained at a cost not exceeding $60,000,000 in about 6 years, 74, ii, 91, 92, 101, 113, 120, 122, 129; 75, ii, 637; 77, 677. Benefits to C.: In general terms, the route presents extraordinary claims as a measure of relief to the Western States and as a means of developing immense mineral resources now neglected, 74, ii, 91, 95, 102, 109, 113, 114, 123, 128. PLANS. (See Estimates.)

Early plans, 1817-19, contemplated a navigation of Rs., e. and w. of the Alleghenies, by bateaux of 2 or 3' draft, and passage of mountains by turnpike road, 71, 625, 636.

Capt. McNeil, 1826-28, submitted to board of internal imp. plan for imp. James, Jackson, Greenbrier, New, and Kanawha Rs., by slack-water navigation and canal, passing the Alleghenies by tunnel 2.6 m. l., 71, 625, 634, 637; 74, ii, 87; 77, 677, 762.

The James River & Kanawha Canal Co., 1832-36, began constr. of works, looking to the connection bet. James and Ohio Rs. (See Private and corporate work.)

PRIVATE (CORPORATE) WORK.

1785. A company was organized for imp. of James R., which, in 1832, transferred all its rights and franchises to the James & Kanawha River Canal Co., who, in 1836, began the constr. of the James River & Kanawha Canal, the proposed route of which was as follows: From Richmond up valleys of James and Jackson Rs. to Covington; thence via Dunlaps Creek and Fork Run to summit level; thence by tunnel 2.6 m.; thence via valleys of Howard Creek, Greenbrier, New, and Kanawha Rs. to the Ohio; total distance, 486 m. In 1872 the portion from Richmond to Buchanan had been completed, of which 159.7 m. was canal and 36.7 m. slack water; canal dimensions, 5' x 50'; locks, 5' x 15' x 100' 71, 625, 635, 650, 651.

1868. E. Lorraine advised new line for tunnel, reducing summit level 216', but increasing l. of tunnel to 9 m., 71, 626. Legislation concerning duties, rights, and franchises of company, 77, 808. Kanawha R. Improvement Co. (See Kanawha River.) Chesapeake & Ohio R.R.; the location of, adds greatly to est. cost of water communication, 71, 643; 73, 829; 77, 677.

PHYSICAL CHARACTERISTICS.

Unusual heavy rains, producing flood, prevented the use of maneuvering boat; ramming ineffectual; general idea that it is unsafe to permit a Chanoine wicket dam to stand over a considerable rise proved erroneous; dam withstood severe test; less damage done than from ramming, 12, 2313, 2314.

Part (c), GG-2 Missouri R.—General Data.APPROPRIATIONS. (See p. 1041.)

One or two small app. had been made prior to 1878, for general imp. App. on a larger scale began with the act of June 18, 1878. 03, 406.

COMMERCE.

Mouth to Sioux City: 1897, 391,000 t.; 1902, 410,527 t.; 1907, 843,863 t.; 1911, 359,721 t.; 12, 839.

Above Sioux City: 1887, 14,000 t.; 1892, 17,000 t.; 1897, 17,000 t.; 1902, 31,000 t.; 1907, 45,000 t.; 1911, 11,000 t.; 12, 839.

The Kansas City-Missouri River Navigation Co. had been organized, 1912, with capital of about $1,200,000. The first boats of the company were run 1911. Extensive terminal facilities had been constr. at Kansas City, with probably the most complete inland river transfer wharf in the U. S. Related terminals were being estab. at other points. The effect of this revival of traffic not apparent at 1912, but as the boat rates were one-third less than RR. rates, the latter expected to decline. 12, 839.

PHYSICAL CHARACTERISTICS.

The Mo. R. formed by the junction of the Jefferson, Madison, and Gallatin Rs. in sw. Montana, flows se. to entrance into Miss. R. in e. part of Mo., about 18 m. above St. Louis. From Three Forks to mouth is 2,551 m.

From Fort Benton to Great Falls, 49 m., there are dams and rapids, the aggregate fall being 695'. Some portions above Great Falls are navigable also, but not continuously because of several power dams.

There has been navigation on the R. since 1819.

The elevations above sea level are: Three Forks, 3,045'; Ft. Benton, 2,671'; Sioux City, 1,085'; Kansas City, 723'; and mouth of Mo. R., 386'.

The general condition of the R. is one of alternate pools and bars. The l.-w. d. over bars is 3' generally, and w. thereat from one-third to 1 m.; in the l. reaches the w. from 800' to 1,500', and the l.-w. d. in such places is often over 12'. Snagging operations since work of imp. has lessened what was once a great hindrance to navigation. 12, 839.

PROJECTS.

The U. S. began removal of snags as early as 1838, with funds usually app. for several Rs. jointly, i. e., for the Ohio, Mississippi, Missouri, and sometimes the Arkansas, 03, 406.

Up to 1884, the work of imp. was conducted on the separate-district plan. From 1884 to 1890 the work on the entire R. was under the Missouri R. Commission. After 1890, however, the portion from Sioux City, Iowa, upward and inclusive, was a separate district until 1902.

At 1902 no proj. for the imp. of the R. as a whole had been adopted. Whatever work was done was of a more or less local or detached character. 03, 406.

On the upper portion of the R. the work originally consisted, mainly, in imp. the shoals and rapids on the so-called "Rocky River," from Ft. Benton downstream for 150 m. In "more recent times" the work has been limited largely to chan. regulation and bank protection. Two ice Hs. were constr. Some minor work has been done above Ft. Benton. 03, 406.

Capt. Chittenden, 1903, recom. that the arbitrary division of the R. into 2 districts, with the dividing point at Sioux City, should be abolished, and that the R. should be treated as a whole; also, that the app. should be in a lump sum, providing elasticity to cover emergencies constantly arising from the unstable character of the R., 03, 1553.

The commission was constituted by act July 5, 1884, and abolished by act June 13, 1902; thereupon the entire R. was consolidated into one district, 03, 406.

The effort of the commission was to accomplish a continuous, progressive control of the R., contracting it where necessary, giving the chan. proper direction, and securely holding it in place. Imp., on this plan, was carried out in the vicinity of Kansas City, and on the first reach of the R., extending from near Jefferson City to the mouth. On 45 m. of this reach a continuous chan. of not less than 6' was obtained, and this location was originally one of the worst parts. In addition, new land was formed, and much land protected from damage by the R. The greater part of the funds app. for expend. under the commission was not applicable to the comprehensive plans of the commission, the acts of app. diverting specific amounts for specific localities. 03, 406.

The following work was being done at period of transfer:

1902-03. Lower R.: Mainly maintain. and repairs. Revet. repair at St. Joseph; dikes rescreened at Nebraska City, protection of Chamois bankhead, and work was in progress at Little Blue when suspended by floods. Snagging. Property accumulated during 19 years of the Missouri Commission transferred. Records sent to Sioux City; some of the boatyard plant at Gasconade auctioned.

Upper R.: Snagging; repair work at Pierre, S. Dak., and Sioux City, Iowa; revet. constr. at Elk Pt., S. Dak., and revet. extension above Combination Br., Sioux City; repair and extension of dikes at Yankton; 03, 1552.

Does not include 2 allotments of $50,000 each for removing snags, etc., above Sioux City, from money for "below" Sioux City, 1893 and 1894.⁸ Includes sums for special parts.⁹ Includes $15,000 for snag boat to work between Sioux City and on Yellowstone R.¹⁰ In addition, $40,000 allotted for bank protection vicinity of Sioux City from money for imp. "below" Sioux City, act Mar. 2, 1895.¹¹ Of this sum, $775,000 allotted for specific localities.¹² Includes sums for special places in these limits.¹³ As amended by act June 6, 1900.¹⁴ Deficiency act, destruction of ice gorge, Mo. MISSOURI RIVER.

See special index, p. 1038.

The annual report of the Chief of Engineers, 12, 2220 gives the total for Missouri R. as $15,451,432.07. This total is arrived at after adding contributions or quotas from private sources, receipts from sales, reimbursements, etc., and then deducting refunds, etc. It does not include, however, all the sums provided for the R. according to H. D. 421, 57th Cong., 2d sess., these sums being considered in the 1912 reports, to the extent of $10,841,000. The complete total in H. D. 421, 57th Cong., 2d sess., is $11,078,660.28. The difference, $237,560.28, added to $15,451,432.07, equals $15,688,992.35, which, after considering the receipts and deductions shown at 12, 2220, makes a reasonable correspondence with the total given in this work, as above, $15,497,578.35.

As an example of what is meant by "contributions, quotas," etc., in the foregoing paragraph, see the various footnotes to the tables of appropriations, and particularly the footnotes to table No. 3.

7,975 l. f. revet. built near Rulo by Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R.R. Co., 02, s211.

PROJECTS. (See Plans.)

By Maj. Suter, arrest of deposits at portions of the R. designed to be abandoned, causing the R. to build up new banks and excavate new chan. at portions requiring imp.; the holding of such new lines and the protection of banks against erosion by light mattress protection; est., $10,000 per m., 81, 1658; 82, 226, 1732; approv. by Missouri R. Commission, 85, 2991, 2999, 3003.

Act Sept. 19, 1890, provided that, with certain specified exceptions, the app. of that year should be expend. on the R. below Sioux City in a systematic imp. of the R. from its mouth up, in reaches to be designated by the commission. R. divided into 6 reaches. The first reach divided into the Gasconade and Osage Divisions, 97, 3841.

Osage River: By commission, 1894, for removing snags and other obstr. for l. and d. at Brenneke Shoal; est., $265,000, 95, 3966. Reduction of elevation of lower sill of lock by 5', due to effect of dr. on adjacent water surfaces, 96, 3770. By Capt. Chittenden, 1897, for concrete lock 42' x 220', and a dam in 10 7/5' sections, separated by 9 piers 10' x 13' at the base, materials to be wood, iron, and st.; the foundations of both structures to be built on piling and timber grillage. Novel form of drum weir used. (See Boards of Engineers.) Final est. cost, $325,000, 97, 3946. Est., and discussion of strains, 97, 3953, 3956. Costly system of imp. R. with l. and d. considered unnecessary, 1898, 98, 3472.

Probability that imp. of the first reach might be completed for less than bet. $3,000,000 and $3,500,000, 96, 3772.

Specifications for dikes, 96, 3841. Total cost of dike work, Gasconade Division, 96, 3849.

All the works in the first reach united into one division, the Gasconade Division, 97, 3846; 98, 3466.

The results obtained by the commission, up to 1897, showed beyond question the practicability of controlling the R., holding its banks to give ample chan. for navigation; but the cost, the uncertainty of the permanency of the work, and the slowness of progress, discouraging to Congress. Congress yielding at "this" time to demands for applications of considerable portions of the reduced app. to isolated places where the only objects to be attained would be the protection of local, unimportant, and often private interests, 97, 3847; 99, 3666.

Filling and emptying of locks; general methods; study, 97, 3936.

New system of bank protection promising large reduction in cost of protection work, 98, 3472.

The work of the commission on the R. had not developed, up to 1900, so as to render the submission of an est. for an. mainten. possible, 00, 4947.

Impossibility of carrying on work with any degree of efficiency under the system of app. in practice, 00, 4947.

Completion of the plans of the commission in the first reach, opening the R. from its mouth to Jefferson City, would fully demonstrate the advisability or inadvisability of continuing the works of imp. in the upper parts of the district of the commission, 00, 4947.

Lt. Col. Stickney, 1899, est. it would cost $185,250. for dikes andrevet. to protect banks for 10 m. at Huntsdale, 00, 2851; and $385,000 to rectify chan. at Napoleon, 00, 2857.

Gasconade River: Commission recom. $15,000 per year for imp. of this stream, 00, 4948.

By Lt. Col. Stickney, 1900, protecting R. front at St. Joseph byrevet.; est., $75,000; and to prevent R. breaking through into Lake Contrary by dike extension andrevet. work; est., $120,000, 01, 2867.

By Missouri R. Commission, 1900, expend. of app. of $250,000 in continuing imp. bet. Sioux City and mouth, 01, 3365.

Capt. Keller est., 1900, $20,000 to complete Lock and Dam No. 1, Osage R., and recom. further app. of $25,000 for work above the lock 01, 2371.

PROJECTS.

Operations, except at Vermillion, S. Dak., confined to R. bet. mouth of Yellowstone and Ft. Benton, and consisted in imp. of chan. at rapids and shoals, by removal of r. and constr. of dams, 78, 695-700; 79, 1096; 83, 1355; 84, 1542.

At and below Vermillion, S. Dak., the proj. directed to the rectification of the R. by shore protection and permeable dikes, 79, 1079; 82, 1722.

In 1885 the Missouri R. Commission recom. that, for the time, work be mainly confined to dams and dr. of shoals on "the rocky river" above Carroll; below that point the snag boat should be kept at work and certain experimental dams constr. near Bismarck, 85, 3003.

In 1888, there being no proj. for imp. of the R. below Carroll, except snagging, $250,000 was est. as required to complete proj. above that point, 88, 1558.

By Capt. Powell, 1891, Missouri, mouth of Big Sioux R. to north line of S. Dak., snagging, removal of wrecks and similar obstr., and rectification of R. at Yankton and at Pierre, S. Dak.; est., incl. sur., $229,486, 91, 2246.

By Capt. Powell, 1891, Missouri, Sioux City to Ft. Benton, completion of r. removal below Judith, Mont., an. operation of snag boats, temporary imp. at worst bars, mainten. of ice H. at Rockhaven, and rectification of R. at and near Pierre and Yankton, S. Dak.; est., $329,497, 91, 2249.

Snag-boat service considered of more benefit than any other imp. works with the same expend., 93, 2800.

Act Aug. 17, 1894, extended the limits of imp. up the R. 180 m. to Stubbs Ferry, Mont., 95, 2213.

Ice Hs.: Capt. Hodges proposed in 1894-95 raising levee at mouth of Big Sioux R. above h. w., planting of mooring posts, grading of banks, and constr. of an incline for hauling out boats, to make a second H., at an est. cost of $9,000, 95, 2219.

Great Falls to Stubbs Ferry: By Capt. Hodges, in 1894, constr. of small working plant, removal of obstr., waterway contraction by means of spur dikes and dams, to give an available l.-w. d. of 24' from Stubbs Ferry to Cascade and 3' thence to Great Falls, in accordance with plan of Capt. Powell in 1892, at a total est. cost of $165,812.50 (Capt. Powell's est. was $115,000), and $4,500 an. for mainten.; $20,000 allotted, act Aug. 17, 1894, 95, 2215; 96, 1866; $16,000, act June 3, 1896, 97, 2178. In 1898, Capt. Sanford, after sur. of 1897, proposed increasing est. cost of imp. to $213,646.50 to cover cost of imp. number of shoals below Cascade not hitherto provided for, 98, 1842. No continuation provided, remainder of funds (about $70) turned into Treas., 1899, 99, 2218.

Bismarck H.: $40,000 allotted act Aug. 17, 1894, for protection of this H. and rectification of R. to prevent bank erosion and cutting of a new chan. at or near this locality. Capt. Hodges proposed commencement of constr. of 8 spur dikes on right bank, 95, 2216; $32,000 allotted by act June 3, 1896, 97, 2179, 2180. Work at this locality forms part of a general plan for rectification of the R. from a point 5 m. above to 5 m. below Bismarck, at est. of $725,000, 97, 2180. By Capt. Sanford, 1899, expend. of allotment of $40,000, app. of 1899, for continuing work (repairing works, constr. bank andrevet. on right bank above br. and continuing downstream the left bank protection below the br.), 99, 2219.

Pierre and Ft. Pierre: Act Aug. 17, 1894, allotted $40,000 for rectification of R. at this locality. Capt. Hodges proposed constr. of 5 dikes and a closing dam, part of a general scheme to confine the l.-w. flood to a 700' w. chan., 95, 2216; $40,000, allotted, act June 3, 1896, 97, 2178, with which Capt. Sanford proposed repairs, bank revet., and completion of proj. works, 97, 2180; est. cost of works for rectification of about 7 m. of the stream here, $360,000, 97, 2181. By Capt. Sanford, 1899, applying allotment of $40,000, app. of 1899, for continuing imp. (protecting head of Marion Isld. and closing chute behind it, extension of revet. on isld., raising shore ends of dike at Pierre, and constr. some dikes of Group E on the Pierre side), 99, 2220.

Sioux City: Act Aug. 17, 1894, allotted $10,000 for protection of and completion of works here, and act Mar. 2, 1896, allotted $40,000 from app. for R. bet. its mouth and Sioux City, for protection of banks in front of city on the Iowa side. Capt. Hodges proposed with the first allotment constr. of 2 spur dikes above the old system, and protection of the old dikes' ends, as far as funds would permit; with the second allotment he proposed constr. of 20 spur dikes, 200' to 300' apart and from 100' to 600' l., or as many as funds would permit, 95, 2218; est. of rectifying 7 m. of the R. here, $40,000, 96, 1871; $40,000 allotted, act June 3, 1896, 97, 2193; $30,000 allotted from app. of 1899, 99, 2221; act June 6, 1900, directed that not to exceed $20,000 of this should be expended here (see Elk Point), 00, 2859, 2863; condition of work, 1900 (map), 00, 2880.

In 1896 Lt. Col. Jones est. $50,000 to imp. Nebraska side of R. opposite Sioux City, Iowa, in accordance with plan submitted by Capt. Hodges (see Commerce and Surveys), 96, 1874.

South Sioux City: By Lt. Col. Jones in 1896, expend. allotment of that year, $40,000, in revetting, protecting, and paving banks at this locality, and constr. of short pile dike, the work forming part of a general plan for R. imp. at this locality (see Sioux City, under Projects), 97, 2182; au. given to consolidate this work with that opposite Sioux City to opposite Elk Pt., 99, 2221.

In 1895 Capt. Hodges est. $38,500 per m. for general imp. of R., 95, 2222.

Yankton: By Capt. Sanford, 1896, expend. allotment of 1896, $32,000, for fairing-out and protecting the left bank above the site of a proposed br. at this locality; part of a general scheme of rectification of about 6½ m. of R. in this vicinity, with view to restoration of a SS. landing and control of the R. in vicinity of the br., 97, 2181; proj. revised in 1897 to provide for commencing constr. of a group of dikes first, constr. of br. having been deferred; est. cost of general plan of rectification, $296,800, 98, 1845.

By Capt. Sanford, 1899, applying allotment of $40,000, app. of 1899, to continuing constr. of group of dikes begun 1897 for restoration of SS. landing, 99, 2220.

Elk Pt.: By Capt. Sanford, 1897, expend. allotment of 1896, $20,000, in protecting left bank as far as funds would permit, a part of a general plan for protection of about 10,000' of the left bank in front of Elk Pt., at est. of $87,300, with probable addl. cost of $34,500; funds held until larger app. would be made, 97, 2182.

In 1897 Capt. Sanford believed that works of this character at Elk Pt., where "there is" no C., interfered with the general scheme for imp. of R. in interests of C., 97, 2182.

By Capt. Sanford, 1899, applying allotment of $20,000, app. of 1899, and remainder from app. of 1896 ($19,510.76), to protection of cutting left bank opposite the town (revet., and, where necessary, permeable dikes), 99, 2221; act June 6, 1900, directed that $10,000 addl. be applied to this work (see Sioux City), 00, 2859, 2863.

PLANS.

Capt. Chittenden reported that the total extent of a reservoir system in the arid regions which would render available the entire flow of the streams would not exceed 1,161,600,000,000 c. f.; that if the constr. of such a system were to consume a century in time, it would represent an an. storage of about 11,600,000,000 c. f., or 266,300 acre-f. At $5.37 per acre f. this would cost $1,430,031 per annum. This amount, distributed among the 17 States and Territories of the arid section, would give an average an. expend. in each of $84,119. The an. value of the stored water would return the orig. cost and maintain. in an average period of 3 years. 98, 2878.

RIVER AND HARBOR WORKS.

HH.—MISSISSIPPI RIVER.

INDEX TO REPORTS.

CHIEF OF ENGINEERS, UNITED STATES ARMY, 1866-1912.

HH.—MISSISSIPPI RIVER.

Part (a), HH-1 Plan of Presenting Data.

The works of improvement on the Mississippi River cover so many diverse points and stretches, in various engineering districts, and so many periods embraced in almost one hundred years, that, for the sake of affording a clear, connected, and comprehensive outline of the reports rendered by many engineers concerning the waterway system, all such reports are here brought together into one special group known as Group HH. This lettering corresponds to U. S. waterway groups in the vicinity of St. Louis, Mo., and this selection of grouping has been made in preference to a lettering corresponding to the mouths of the river, for the reason that St. Louis may be considered more or less central to the Mississippi system.

A list of the notable points on the river, both banks, is printed on p. 1097, running from the mouth toward the headwaters, and each of these points has received a number accordingly. The abstracts of data cover either points or stretches. An abstract concerning a point is, of course, given the number of that point in the list. An abstract concerning a stretch is given the number pertaining to the first point on the stretch (proceeding upstream).

A special finding list to all the points or locations and stretches named under HH is provided on p. 1071, and in addition, of course, these points are listed in the general finding list at the back of this index.

A special or general summary of data concerning the river is printed on p. 1081. This indicates also the pages of this index whereon may be found special data concerning commerce, contracts, legislation, operations, etc. There is a special list of engineers.

The funds set aside for the river by Congress are printed on p. 1089. Special care has been taken to classify these appropriations in a simple form, so far as that may be done.

The data abstracted concerning the various works of improvement are grouped generally under the following headings:

Appropriation.

Commerce.

Engineers.

Obstructions.

Operations (from year to year).

Physical characteristics.

Projects.

Surveys, etc.

(For a definition of the matter groupable under the foregoing subheads, see p. 21.)

See p. 1068.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER. See special index, p. 1071.HH-1.—MISSISSIPPI RIVER.*Part (d)*General Data.*APPROPRIATIONS.

See special table of appropriations, p. 1089.

COMMERCE.

The general effect of improvement of the river has been to aid commerce. At 1912 there was a marked increase in the tonnage reported for New Orleans (q. v.); at Vicksburg and Yazoo R. freight rates had been reduced markedly, in some cases as much as over 66%, the rates to inland points having no water competition indicating these savings also. The effect of the reservoir system on rates has been considerable. Without the reservoirs considerable steamboating would be impracticable. Also, railroad freight from St. Paul to St. Louis, 600 m., is only 5% higher than the rate from St. Paul to Chicago, 400 m.; in addition, steamboat freight rates to river points below St. Paul are in general about one-third lower than those of the railroads. Some portion of this reduction is directly attributable to the reservoir system. In portions of the headwater course there are no railroads, so that the adjacent communities are dependent upon the river for traffic movement. It is not claimed that river improvements are solely responsible for the lower rates on traffic, but there is clear evidence that if the waterway formed by the river did not exist the rail rates would be markedly higher.

Many large and important tributaries of the Mississippi R. are dependent on the latter for an outlet for considerable of their commercial traffics.

The works of improvement pertaining to levees and embankments have a large beneficial effect in developing and protecting a vast number of square miles of territory; without such works and their maintenance there would be a tremendous increase in the damage coming annually from floods.

See each abstract listed on p. 1069.

CONTRACTS.

See each abstract listed on p. 1069.

A considerable portion of the work on the river is done by the district offices with their own men and plant. At times, however, contracts are entered into for material and equipment.

DOCUMENTS.

See each abstract listed on p. 1069.

For important special reports see Surveys and also Engineers. Almost every important piece of river and harbor work on the Mississippi R. is reported on in the annual reports of the Chief of Engineers. Data contained in congressional reports, if not printed in the annual reports referred to, are mentioned in them.

ENGINEERS.

(Offices. War Department, Washington, D. C. New Orleans, La.; Vicksburg, Miss.; Memphis, Tenn.; St. Louis, Mo.; Rock Island, Ill.; and St. Paul, Minn.)

PHYSICAL CHARACTERISTICS.

See each abstract on p. 1069.

The mouth has several outlets or passes. Prior to improvement these were obstructed by bars, allowing of depths of only 9' or so at mean low Gulf level. The widths varied. The width of South Pass, 1912, was 530' to 850'; of Southwest Pass, 1,200' to 2,400'.

Above the Passes the river has a well-known character. It is susceptible to floods, which injure its natural and artificial banks or levees, permitting the flooding at times of the surrounding areas for miles. The channel is tortuous. There are many bends, and sometimes the channel cuts across these. Prior to the work of snagging and wreck removal operations, the river was seriously obstructed by numerous snags, logs, etc., and wrecked boats, of all kinds, menacing life and property. There are many islands and bars, helping to form chutes, sloughs, and secondary channels.

The river is navigable for steamboats in one stretch from its mouth to St. Paul, 1,940 m. This portion of the waterway, added to that above St. Paul, to the head or source in Lake Itasca, Minn., makes a total mileage of 2,440 m.

Various locks and dams have been constructed, notably at Des Moines Rapids, Rock Island Rapids, between St. Paul and Minneapolis, and at the headwater lakes, the latter for governing reservoir supply for the river.

A reservoir system, already mentioned, is in process of evolution, for the purpose of improving the navigable depths of the river, principally above Lake Pepin. In 1880 this called for the construction of 41 reservoirs in Winconsin and Minnesota. Through the dams already built commerce has been aided in low-water seasons and floods mitigated, this set of benefits being felt more directly on the stretches from St. Paul downward.

Changes in river bed: A great flood in the Mississippi River always brings out a variety of opinions as to the causes of the floods and suggestions as to how the disasters that attend them may be avoided. The cause of the floods is frequently attributed to the elevation of the river bed due to the construction of levees. The Mississippi River Commission has established the fact that there has been no progressive elevation of the bed of the river. 12, 3717.

Outlets: The following is taken from 12, 3717: "A popular solution of the flood problem is the 'outlet' plan. To any other system (than levees) for the protection of these alluvial lands there are objections, both theoretical and practical, which can not be overcome. Those of a theoretical character are connected with the hydraulic law that a reduction of flood discharge in a silt-formed channel will reduce its capacity below the point of outlet. This observation has been repeated in the many local comparative surveys of the river bed made by the commission before and after crevasses, or before and after rebuilding the levee made necessary by a crevasse. The difficulties of a practical nature consist of the necessity of continuing any outlet to the Gulf without return to the river at any intermediate point. Such return would merely transfer the danger from one locality to another lower down. The condition thus imposed upon any outlet involves great cost and danger. Any outlet intended to relieve the parts of the river where flood heights are now most dangerous would, in any case, be very long. To have an appreciable effect it would require an excavated channel of large width and depth. As it would traverse tracts of cultivated and valuable land, the cost of expropriation of a right of way would be very great. The cost of the levees which would be required to control it and prevent the permanent continuation of disaster and overflow while flowing through regions which will in a few years be placed under the sufficient protection of a levee system would be very much greater.

"When completed, there would be two or more rivers, each presenting the same dangers and requiring the same treatment as the present single channel. The cost of efficient outlets would be greater than the cost of completion of the levee system. When constructed they would either silt up, as do many island chutes, or would enlarge and assume the tortuous type of an alluvial stream with shifting bars and caving banks. Finally, conceived and executed in defiance of physical law, they would fail as a safe, cheap, or efficient method of abating overflow.

"After a review of the progress thus far made in the improvement of a levee system and of the facts developed by the continued surveys, gagings, and observations of the river, such as the entire absence of evidence of any rise of the bed of the river, the local tendency to shoal where volume is reduced, and the larger discharge now controlled between levees, with an increase of flood heights which does not affect the practicability of a levee system, the commission¹ expresses its continued confidence in the reclamation from overflow of the alluvial lands of the lower Mississippi Valley on the lines now proposed and in progress, as entirely practicable, at a cost which is amply justified by the importance of the undertaking.

"The experiences of late years do not justify any material departure from the views thus expressed.

"It is evident that an outlet to be effective must be such as to carry the outflow to the Gulf and not return the water to the main stream at some point lower down. The highest point that will satisfy this condition is the mouth of Red River, 765 miles below Cairo, and an outlet at that point would give no relief to the many miles above it. The damage by the flood wave would be done before the point of relief could be reached.

"Waste weirs have been suggested for the Mississippi below Red River to carry off a volume of the flood equal in depth to the height of the levees, with sufficient width to deliver a large percentage of the overbank flow. There is no available site for such a structure above Bonnet Carre. This is so far down toward the end of the delta that a comparatively small area would be benefited thereby, and the general objections to outlets cited in the commission¹ report quoted are largely applicable here as well."

PROJECTS.

See each abstract listed on p. 1069.

At Southwest Pass, the project is for depth of 35', m. l. w., and width of 1,000', leading to the lower part of the river.

The lower part of the river, from Head of Passes to above Cairo, is under the special care of the Mississippi River Commission. The orig. project of the commission, Feb. 17, 1880, contemplated gaining and holding a 10' chan. at extreme low water. After studies and experiments of years the proj. was modified to seek temporary imp. of the low-water chan. embracing not less than 9' depth and a navigable chan. 250' w. At 1912, the following was esteemed the work of the commission:

1. Continuation of surveys; preparation and publication of maps; maintenance of gauges; the recording, tabulation, and publication of gauge readings; the taking and recording of discharge measurements at high and low stages of the Mississippi River and its tributaries; examinations and investigations relative to proposed separation of the waters of Red and Atchafalaya Rivers from those of the Mississippi; and other observations.

2. The building, extension, and repair of levees.

3. The building, maintenance, and operation of dredge boats.

4. The repair and extension of existing works for the improvement of the channel, the preservation of harbors, the prevention of cut-offs, and the security of levees.

5. The maintenance of a low-water channel between the Mississippi, Red, and Atchafalaya Rivers.

6. Other miscellaneous details incident to the execution of the general project.

Levees: The following is taken from 12, 3718: "For convenience in administration and the allotment of funds for levee purposes, the river front has been divided by the commission¹ into levee districts. The names and locations of these districts, as now established by the commission, are as follows:

"1. The district on the right bank from the vicinity of Cape Girardeau, Mo., 54.5 miles above Cairo, to New Madrid, Mo. (71),² called the upper St. Francis levee district.

"2. The district on the left bank from Hickman, Ky. (36), to Slough Landing, Tenn., (60), called Reelfoot levee district.

"3. The district on the right bank extending from the vicinity of New Madrid, Mo. (79), to the mouth of the St. Francis (298), called lower St. Francis levee district.

"4. The district on the left bank extending from just below Memphis (244) to the Bolivar-Coahoma County line (365), called upper Yazoo levee district.

"5. The district on the left bank extending from the Bolivar-Coahoma County line (365) to mouth of the Yazoo (599), called lower Yazoo levee district.

"6. The district on the right bank extending from Helena (306) to White River (385), called White River levee district.

"7. The district on the left bank from the mouth of Yazoo R. (599) to Baton Rouge (833), called the Homochitto levee district.

"8. The district on the right bank extending from Arkansas River (402) to opposite Warrenton, Miss. (606), called upper Tensas levee district.

"9. The district on the right bank extending from opposite Warrenton, Miss. (606), to mouth of Red River (764), including Palmyra Island, called lower Tensas levee district.

"10. The district on the right bank extending from Red River (764) to Bayou Lafourche (885), called Atchafalaya levee district.

"11. The district on the right bank extending from Bayou Lafourche (885) to Orleans levee district (968), called Lafourche levee district.

"12. The district on the right bank extending from Orleans levee district (982) to the Gulf (1060), called Barataria levee district.

"The 'estimated final contents' of the levees given above is based on grades and sections, as provisionally established by the commission.

"In addition to the levee districts given in the foregoing table, there is the Homochitto levee district, established by the commission in 1894, extending on the left bank from mouth of the Yazoo River to Baton Rouge. Surveys were made of portions of this district in 1895 and in 1910, but no levee work has ever been done in it by the commission.

"Under the joint resolution of Congress approved April 30, 1912, the commission contemplates closing crevasses in such levees as exist in this district.

"The commission established a provisional grade, based on previous high-water records, to which the levees should be built. The ultimate grade necessary to safely pass the maximum flood can only be reached by observing the effect of successive floods, as the levee system becomes more and more effective in flood control. The provisional-grade line has always been well above the flood line and also well in advance of the levee heights possible with the funds placed at the disposal of the commission. The flood of 1912 gives new data for fixing a standard high water and determining a higher provisional-grade line.

"The development of the levee system has been carried on by both the Government and the several levee boards as rapidly as available funds would permit, but the top of the levee is still below the provisional grade for 586 miles of its length and the levee is deficient in the cross section contemplated for a large part of the entire line.

"In addition to the sums given in the above table of cost of high-water protection, large amounts were also expended by the several levee boards, the total of which is not available.

"The following statement shows the estimated damages to property and other losses, exclusive of levees, due to the flood of 1912:

First and second districts.....	$6,569,623
Third district.....	11,345,000
Fourth district.....	25,000,000
	42,914,623

"The estimate for the fourth district is lacking in detailed information and should be regarded as a rough approximation which is probably too high. Furthermore, the total damage cited is by no means all due to breaks in the controlling levee system, but also covers damages in localities not protected by such levees."

Ohio R. upward: In the section immediately above the mouth of the Ohio the effort is to gain and hold 8' d. below St. Louis, and 6' above that point, by confining the flow of the river to a single chan. about 2,500' w. at bankful stage, by closing sloughs and secondary channels, and by building out new banks where the natural w. is excessive.

As mentioned under Physical Characteristics, a reservoir system is in progress of construction for collecting surplus water at various seasons, to be released systematically during low water.

Above Minneapolis the channel is obstructed at places by power dams, but at suitable stretches there is an effort to gain and hold a navigable depth of about 4'.

There is systematic removal of wrecks, snags, and other obstructions.

The sums set aside by Congress for the Mississippi River have been specified in so many ways throughout a period of almost a hundred years that it has been deemed more practical to assemble all the items, so far as they can be found, into one group, as below, rather than to attempt to assign the appropriations to any particular part or parts of the abstracts pertaining to the river.

The amounts and classifications in the following tables have been obtained from three principal sources—Treas. Doc. 373, 1882; H. D. 421, 57th, 2d; and from the annual reports of the Chief of Engineers:

1902-03. Gauges estab. bet. Lock and Dam No. 2 and mouth of Minnesota R., 03, 1549.

PHYSICAL CHARACTERISTICS.

Gaugings made at St. Paul, Minn., during 1890, 90, 2102; 1891 91, 2215, 2216; 1892, 92, 1850, 1851.

Because of low stage of water during June, 1900, the taking of gaugings discontinued, 00, 2821.

A rise in R. at St. Paul commences in 7 or 8 days following release of water from distributing reservoir at Pokegama Falls, and 5 days afterwards full effect is felt, 01, 449.

On account of high stage of R., l.-w. gaugings only required, 05, 442.

Tables of gauge readings, 06, 2517; 08, 2698.

PROJECTS.

This work is provided for by allotment from the permanent an. app. of $9,600 made by the R. and H. act of Aug. 11, 1888, as amended by sec. 9 of the R. and H. act of June 13, 1902, for the purpose of securing the uninterrupted gaugings of the waters of the Mississippi R. and its tributaries. No gaugings were made until the fall of 1899. Since then gaugings have been made as frequently as the funds available would permit and the conditions justified the expenditure, 12, 830.

As it was useless to repeat the gaugings, because of the l. w. during June, 1900, the sum of $179.94 was returned to the Treas., 00, 2821.

PROJECTS. (See Estimates and Plans.)

By Capt. Allen, 1879, test dam at Lake Winnibigoshish; est., $70,000, 79, 1194, 1205, 1211.

Since 1870 various plans proposed for imp. of Mississippi R. above Lake Pepin with system of reservoirs at sources of the Mississippi and its upper principal tributaries, by which the flood water could be impounded and subsequently discharged during season of l. w., 70, 285-287; 75, ii, 441; 79, 1206-1223.

In 1880, following app. of June 14, 1880, proj. of Maj. Allen adopted providing for collection of surplus water during winter, spring, and early summer, and its systematic release during seasons of l. w. Proj. provided for constr. of 41 reservoir dams upon headwaters of Mississippi, St. Croix, Chippewa, and Wisconsin Rs. at an est. cost, excl. of land damages, of $1,809,083.50, 81, 1761, 1763, 1770, 1781, 2748, 2753; 82, 1830; 85, 1749.

Description of dams, 81, 1763; 83, 1456, 1472 87, 1667, 1678.

BE., 1880, approv. of location and general plan of dam proposed by Maj. Allen at outlet of Lake Winnibigoshish, on Mississippi R., with recom. modifications in dimensions and constr., 81, 1763. Modifications adopted, 1882, 83, 1472-1474.

Effect of dams on l.-w. stages, 86, 1503; 87, 1669, 1682, 1685, 1687.

Consideration of further extension of system; BE., 1887, did not consider that the system should be extended to St. Croix, Chippewa, and Wisconsin Rs., 87, 1680, 1690, 1692.

History of reservoirs proposed and built at headwaters of Mississippi, 92, 1824.

Act 1892 app. $60,000 for care and mainten. of reservoirs, of which sum $30,000 could be spent in constr. of navigable pass through Sandy Lake Dam, 93, 2265.

Board of 1892 approv., with one exception, plans submitted by Maj. Jones for navigable pass through Sandy Lake Dam; est., $43,026.24, 93, 2271.

In 1895 Maj. Jones est. $110,000 to constr. reservoir at Gull Lake, 95, 2178. Sundry civil act of June 4, 1897, app. $15,000 for land damages, etc., ensuing from constr. of reservoir and dam, 97, 2139. Lt. Col. Jones, in 1897, est. $85,000 for reservoir with capacity of 2,712,000,000 c. f., by constr. of ditches connecting Gull, Round, and Long Lakes, and a timber dam at outlet of Gull Lake, incl. land damages, 97, 2139. In 1898 Maj. Abbot reported proj. of damming Crow Wing R. and storing its flow in the proposed Gull Lake Reservoir chimerical; the expense apparently would be out of proportion to the benefits to be secured, 98, 1814.

Reservoir sites, comparative cost of, in U. S. and India. Cost of system at Mississippi headwaters had been $8.78 in 1897 per 1,000,000 c. f. storage capacity, which included mainten. and repairs up to June 30, 1896, 97, 2138.

In 1896-97 Lt. Col. Jones recom. sur. for subsidiary basin at Deer and Bass Lakes, and drg. in Pokegama Reservoir, the latter not being able to carry its own watershed in addition to what came in by leakage and other ways from the reservoirs above it, 97, 2139.

In 1897 a recent ex. showed dikes were required to prevent escape of water from Pine R. Reservoir; est., cost of dike, $10,000, 97, 2140.

After ex., 1896-97, Lt. Col. Jones recom. sur. in upper Crow Wing Basin for reservoir, 97, 2140.

In 1898 Maj. Abbot believed Leech Lake and Winnibigoshish Reservoirs could not be safely filled until sur. and proper repairs had been made; that increase of land values at headwaters of the Mississippi made it a question of completing and making permanent the works already on hand, and of locating and paying for large areas which there was reason to believe had been submerged without compensation, Indian lands, among others, being involved, and that careful measurements before and after opening of reservoirs at the l.-w. season would give all the data really valuable in connection with hydrological observations, 98, 1812, 1814.

Act Mar. 3, 1899, provided funds for conversion of Leech Lake Dam into a concrete and steel structure, 99, 2183; 00, 2789.

Act 1899 approv. application of unexpended funds to renewal and repair of reservoir dams already constr. Est. cost of such work, incl. land damages and contingencies, $300,000. Money, therefore, for Gull Lake Reservoir applied to reconstr. of old dam at Lake Winnibigoshish, and to completing new dike at Pine R. Reservoir, 99, 2183.

Act June 13, 1902, provided $10,000 to be used bet. Brainerd and Grand Rapids, Minn., 02, 375.

Act June 13, 1902, provides for renewal and repair of dams, further investigation, ex. and sur. Pine R. and Sandy Lake Reservoirs, Willow R., sur. of flowage lines of reservoirs, purchase of lands, 03, 1529.

Est. for constr. reservoir in Willow R., $550,000, 03, 1537.

Remarks on desirability of constr. reservoir in Gull Lake, 06, 1438.

Act Mar. 2, 1907, au. constr. low reservoir at Gull Lake, Minn.; capacity, 3,000,000,000 c. f.; cost, $70,000, land to be furnished free; also reconstr. of Sandy Lake Dam, without lock, for SS.; cost, $75,000, 07, 499.

Above act amended by striking out words "without a lock for steamboats," 08, 532.

Act June 25, 1910, au. constr. of an equalization canal bet. Winnibigoshish and Leech Lake Reservoirs; ¹ est., $61,200, 10, 632. Act Feb. 27, 1911, provides $10,000 for constr. ry. br. over canal, 11, 678. Change in route of proposed canal suggested, westerly route desired, 12, 2182.

PRIVATE WORK.

An attempt to cause a crevasse, by digging a 5' ditch, 50' long, in the natural embankment of the Pine R. Reservoir, made July 22, 1898, by parties unknown. Plan foiled, no damage done, by the timely discovery by the dam tender, 99, 2191.

Boards:

1837. Recom. dr. with bucket dr. at mouth of R., 70, 323; 74, 806, 841.

1852 (for application of app. of $75,000). Recom. (1) stirring up bottom; (2) if this fail, dr. with buckets; (3) if both fail, then parallel jetties at mouth of Southwest Pass (for which an addl. app. of $150,000 asked); (4) if needed, the closing of lateral outlets; (5) should all fail, a ship canal might be resorted to, 66, iv, 237; 70, 323; 74, 793, 806, 841. (Commodore Latimer, U. S. N., Maj. Chase, Beauregard, and Barnard.)

1856. Recom. d. of Southwest Pass by stirring up bottom, 66, iv, 237; 70, 323, 334, 338; 74, 793, 806, 842. (See Projects.)

1873. Report upon plan (submitted by Capt. C. W. Howell) for ship canal connecting Mississippi R. with Gulf of Mexico, 74, 823. B. considered constr. of canal across Ft. St. Philip Peninsula presented no extraordinary engineering difficulties. Precise location of line and est. required more detailed ex., 74, 823. Debouch of canal into Isle au Breton Pass approv.; also location (generally) of inner end on straight part of R. below Ft. St. Philip; doubtful practicability of founding lift lock by plan of surrounding cofferdam, 74, 824. Recom. following modifications (see Projects); lock chamber to be 60'-65' x 500' w.; d. of water on miter sill, 25'; side slopes of canal 1' upon 4'; jetties would require increased dimensions; more data required for location in detail, and close est. of cost, 74, 825. (Col. Barnard, Lt. Col. Newton, Maj. Gillmore, Warren, Craighill, and Weitzel, and Capt. Howell. Col. Barnard not fully concurring, submitted minority report.)

Minority report considered that, assuming canal to be built, a more comprehensive study required to fix location and details of cost; before resorting to canal, the superior advantages of natural mouths, and probability of utilizing them, should be considered, 74, 826. Radical change in location desirable, 74, 829. Stability of lock foundations insufficient, 74, 830. Engineering difficulties underrated, 74, 831.

Communication of Lt. Col. Newton reviewing minority report, 74, 868.

Report of same board on imp. of Passes as an alternative to or in connection with the canal. Pass a Loutre assumed to be imp.; d. of 25' required; jetties 2,200' apart and each 24,000' l., 74, 833. Closure of north mouth of Pass necessary; delicate and difficult work of; general development of delta sufficient to destroy the most skillfully designed works, 74, 834. Ultimate filling of area ahead of jetties; difficulties of imp. by jetties; relative advantages of a Loutre and Southwest Passes, 74, 836. Means used and results obtained in imp. Vistula and Danube, 74, 837, constitute no precedent in imp. of mouth of Mississippi, 74, 838. Stirring can not be relied upon beyond 18'; can not be made a substitute for proper proj.; should be continued until proper proj. is completed, 74, 839. Proj. of canal offers best and most certain means of attaining proper outlet to ocean, 74, 840.

Minority report of Col. Barnard reviews past efforts to remove bars; conclusions and recom. of previous boards, 74, 841. Success of stirring since 1867, 74, 842. An attainable d. of 20' possible, adequate for C. purposes, 74, 844. Plan of jetties offered a probable attainment of d. w., 74, 845. Discussion of application of jetties to Danube, Oder, Vistula, and Rhone, 74, 846. Application to Mississippi R., 74, 850. Closing of North Pass of a Loutre not desirable; constr. of jetties not as expensive as indicated by majority report, 74, 851. South Pass should be selected for trial of jetties; action of jetties would retard bar advance; cost of jetties a fraction of cost of canal, 74, 852. Inestimable value of open R. mouth navigation as opposed to canal, 74, 853.

Minority report of Maj. Warren; data for detailed est. not possessed; canal only proj. that meets demands of U. S.; feasibility of; canal should be tried first, 74, 853.

Review of minority report by Lt. Col. Newton, 74, 871.

Review of entire question by Chief of Engineers, 74, 854.

(Col. Barnard, Lt. Col. Newton, Maj. Gillmore, Warren, Craighill, and Weitzel, and Capt. Howell.

Capt. Howell dissented in one point, viz, d. to be maintained by dr. 20'. Col. Barnard and Maj. Warren, not fully concurring, submitted minority reports.)

1874. To determine best method of obtaining and maintaining a sufficient d. of water at mouth of Mississippi R., either by canal from R. to Gulf or by d. natural outlets of R., 75, 948. Board visited Europe for ex. and information; conclusions, 75, 949.

Various canal routes considered; that commencing 5½ m. below Ft. St. Philip and debouching behind Sable Pt. considered best; length, 6½ m.; canal 200' at bottom, 308' at top, 27' d.; lock near R. 7' lift; dimensions 65' x 200' on grillage foundation; guard gates-above and below lock, 75, 950. Details, 956.

By d. natural outlets of R.; methods proposed; that by stirring inadmissible beyond d. 20', 75, 951. Plan of parallel jetties adopted in discussion, 75, 952. South Pass selected; jetties to be 900' apart, beginning at 30' water within bar and running to 30' without; l. of each jetty, 11,900'; details of, 75, 953. Future rate of extension of bar, 1,000' in 10 years, 75, 954. Imp. of South Pass by jetties recom. in place of canal, 75, 955. Recom. that entire amount for, be made at once available, 75, 956. Details, 75, 958.

(Lt. Cols. Wright and Alexander, Maj. Comstock, Messrs. H. Mitchell, T. E. Sickles, W. M. Roberts, and H. D. Whitcomb.)

Lt. Col. H. G. Wright did not concur in judgment of board as to probable success of jetty system, and reported that the canal proj. offered reasonable chances of success, 75, 956. (See Chief of Engineers.)

PHYSICAL CHARACTERISTICS.

South Pass is an outlet of the Mississippi R. and flows in a generally southern direction. Its l.—from the Head of the Passes to the Gulf of Mexico—is about 13 m. Prior to imp. it was obstr. by bar at its mouth and head over which d. of 9' and 13', resp., existed at l. w. (mean low Gulf level), while through the balance of the Pass there were d. of more than 30', except at 2 intermediate localities, where the d. were 27' and 28'. The w. of the Pass varies bet. 530' and 850'.

PHYSICAL CHARACTERISTICS.

Description of, 99, 1865; 99, 2289. Southwest Pass is one of the principal outlets of the Mississippi R. It flows in a generally sw. direction and its length from the Head of the Passes to the Gulf of Mexico is about 15 m. It was obstr. by a bar at its mouth, having a depth of only 9' over it, while the remainder of the Pass had depths ranging from 26' to 83' at l. w. (mean low Gulf level). The width of the Pass varies between 1,200 and 2,400'.

Prior to the opening of South Pass to deep-draft vessels Southwest Pass was the entrance to the R. generally used by vessels bound to and from the port of New Orleans, 12, 645.

At Vicksburg H., Miss., the proj. of 1877 proposed the protection of the city water front by shore protection at Delta Pt., constr. of a dike on the crest of the bar extending from De Soto Isld., dr. in the inner H., and the diversion of Yazoo R.; est., $2,084,100, 78, 638, 641; 79, 974; 82, 2761. The M. R. C., 1883, reported that further study should be given to the subject before final recom. be made, 84, 2419.

By Maj. Suter, 1875, gradual l.-w. imp. of Mississippi, Cairo to Gulf, by contraction at wide, shallow places, by means of transverse dikes and closure of side chans., and by training walls, dikes to be composed of brush and st., dr. to be resorted to in hastening or assuring the formation of chans. at sites selected, 75, ii, 512. An increase of l.-w. d. from 4½' to 6', all that should be attempted, 75, ii, 496, 519, 520. General considerations affecting the imp., 75, ii, 496; 78, 842.

By Capt. Benyaured, 1877, to protect water front of Memphis by shore protection for 7,600 l. f.; est., $170,000, 77, 78, 492; 78, 637; 79, 979. Increased: 1882, to $204,211, 82, 1498.

By BE., 1878, to imp. R. below Cairo to l.-w. d. of 10', by contraction at wide, shallow places to about 3,500', and by protection of caving banks, 79, 1008, 1011, 1013, 1014; constr. to be determined by experience derived from the imp. of one of the worst places, 79, 1013.

By BE., 1878, to protect water front of New Orleans by shore protection of pile and brush revet. aided by brush mats placed on shore slopes; est., $476,000, 78, 614, 616; 79, 875; 80, 1151; 82, 1362.

At Natchez and Vidalia, proj. of 1880 proposed protection of banks at Marengo and Giles Bends to prevent R. from cutting through into Concordia Bend; est., $939,600, 80, 1333, 1353.

At mouth of Red R., the BE. of 1880 recom. continuation of dr. as a means of temporary imp., 80, 1288.

The BE. of 1881 recom. that previously adopted plan of imp. be discontinued, 82, 1365; that at Carrollton Bend the necessity for bank protection was alone presented, and that protection should consist of brush mattress of the greatest practical l. and of most substantial constr., 82, 1366-1368.

Proj. recom. by M. R. C. contemplated imp. of R. below Cairo by contraction of waterway at all shoal points to comparatively uniform w., and the protection of banks from caving. Reported that necessary contraction of the waterway could be best accomplished with permeable dikes, by which new shore lines would be estab. and closing of chutes. By mattress revet. the new shore lines formed by the dikes were to be held, and wherever caving banks occurred to be protected against eroding by mattress revet. or some equivalent device, 81, 2733; 82, 2748, 2751; 83, 2120; 85, 2866. Commission recom. initial work of imp. should be upon the 200 m. of R. immediately below Cairo, 81, 2736; 85, 2866.

In relation to levees, reported by majority of commission that while levees in themselves were not necessary as a means of securing ultimately navigable chans., nevertheless, they believed that, besides giving protection to life and property against overflow, safety and ease to navigation, and facilities to C. by estab. landing places above the reach of floods, the repair and mainten. of existing extensive lines of levees would hasten the work of chan. imp. through the increased scour they would produce during high-river stages, 81, 2732; 82, 2754; 83, 2353, 2373; 85, 2552, 2865.

General:

In 1891 Commission took up the study of the most suitable means to temporarily relieve C. on the R. pending the extension of the works for permanently imp. chan. Conclusions reached that hydraulic drs. of large capacity gave the greatest promise of success, 93, 3557; 94, 2715; 99, 3299.

Mattress modified in constr. to secure more flexibility and greater density. Extra cost justified by results, 93, 3557.

Congress, 1894, asked for an opinion as to the desirability of separating the Mississippi and Red Rs. Description of work done up to this time by the commission. Commission of opinion that the separation through Old R. would estab. more favorable conditions for navigation of both streams, and for protecting from overflow the region along the banks. These objects could also be accomplished by this means more surely than by any other plan. Minority report favoring keeping Old R. open until Plaquemine Bayou Canal would be completed, and until other misc. work was done, 95, 3639.

Suggestions by Lt. Col. Stickney for relief of lower Louisiana from excessive flood heights, 95, 3049.

Considered settled, 1896, that in the plan for the permanent imp. of the chan. by contraction of its l.-w. width, the work of bank protection should precede permeable dikes and other structures of that class, and that the latter may be regarded as supple. in function and necessary only in a minority of cases, 96, 3419.

Conclusions of commission, 1896, that it was not possible with the work employed up to that time to accomplish satisfactory permanent imp. of the R., Cairo to the Passes, as was necessary to meet the urgent demands of C., within any reasonable time. Dr. looked on as giving greater promise of success, 96, 3422.

Commission est., 1896, complete revet. work, Cairo to Vicksburg, would cost $63,000,000, requiring 40 years to build, and that there would be an an. cost for mainten. of not less than 10% of the orig. expend., 96, 3423.

Virtual abandonment of the work of permanently imp. the R., after expend. of a vast amount of money, decided on by the commission, 1896, the subject of a minority report by Lt. Col. Stickney, 96, 3430.

Wiser policy, apparently, to close all breaks at once, and to build levees of only sufficient strength to resist successfully frequently recurring h. w. over as large an extent as possible, in preference to building levees complete at any particular place, 93, 3559.

None of the levees built by the U. S. broke during the floods of 1897; important fact developed that the flood waters of the R. may be permanently controlled by a system of levees that can be constr. within a reasonable cost, 97, 3526; 98, 3150.

By Capt. Allen, 1871, protection of banks at Sawyers Bend from erosion by reopening Cabaret Slough by a dike 1,800' in length, projecting from head of Cabaret Isld. obliquely into R. and deflecting about one-third of the R. into e. chan., "now" closed, thereby relieving w. chan. (Sawyers Bend); head of Cabaret Isld. to be revetted; spur dikes along e. shore, 72, 349, 350, 353; regarded un-
fav. by Chief of Engineers, 72, 348; BE. (1872) disapproved, 72, 55, 363. PROJECTS. (See Estimates and Plans.)

Maj. Warren, 1866, recom. trial of wing dams and jetties for imp. of upper Mississippi, 67, 2(0); 68, 51, 318, 366. Reports that scraping bars is efficient within small limits and indispensable for temporary imp. of R., 68, 50, 317, 320, 326, 366; 71, 260. Thorough study of physical features of R. necessary to the development of plan for imp. 68, 313.

At Alton H. and mouth of the Missouri:

By H. C. Long, 1868, imp. Alton H. by closing slough w. of Ellis Isld. with timber, brush, and st. dike about 10' x 1,200'; est., $112,000, 68, 371, 376. Approv. by Maj. Warren, 68, 371.

Lt. Col. Reynolds, 1871, recom. proj. for low dike, 71, 58, 318, 320; 72, 355; recom. by BE. (1872) as deserving of immediate attention, 72, 54, 361. Necessity of protecting head of isld. from erosion, 73, 446; work began Sept., 1872; details and method of constr., 73, 444; completed (1874) to 10' above l. w., 75, 65, 447; 77, 635. Map of, 73, 443.

By Lt. Col. Reynolds, 1871, protection of banks opposite mouth of Missouri by clearing Mobile Chute and Maple Isld. Slough of obstr., thereby giving increased facility for passage of h. w., with a deflecting dike at head of Mobile Isld., 71, 58, 312, 318, 320; 72, 355.

Clearing of Mobile and Maple Isld. passages, approv. by BE., 72, 362, 367. Map showing mouth, 73, 443.

At St. Louis H.:

Early proj. for imp., 71, 321.

For imp., 1871, by reopening Cabaret Slough, see Plans.

Capt. Allen, 1871, reported the preferable plan to be a contraction of waterway, consistent with table regimen, with longitudinal dikes throughout entire length of H., 71, 326.

Chief of Engineers, 1872, regarded favorably the proj. of canalizing by dikes or by jetties for the entire length of the H., 72, 348.

BE., 1872, reported ultimately the R. through-outlength of H. should be made to flow in a permanent chan. with jetties or by longitudinal dikes, bringing the e. shore parallel to w. and distant therefrom from 1,200' to 1,500'. The demands of C. require that R. from Bischoffs Dike to E. St. Louis Levee be confined within above-named limits by raising and extension of Venice and Long Dikes, 72, 55, 364, 366; began in 1872, 73, 54, 454.

Imp. of H. by closing Cahokia Chute (chan. e. of Arsenal Isld.); ultimate necessity of, 75, 504. Action of city of St. Louis by building dike from w. shore into chan. w. of Arsenal Isld. complicated question of closing, 75, 503, 511. Produced strong erosion on Arsenal Isld. and affected unfavorably works of imp. at Horse Tail Bar, 76, 81, 637. Rapid destruction of Arsenal Isld. made its protection and the closing of Cahokia Chute imperative, 76, 642; work began on, 77, 81, 505. Danger to H. and shipping from ice, by throwing entire volume of R. through w. chan., necessitating raising of dike and formation of winter H. below dike and e. of Arsenal Isld., 77, 81, 505.

Miscellaneous points:

Protection of banks at Sawyers Bend from erosion. BE. (1872) did not regard fav. reopening Cabaret Slough, but preferred protection by revetting banks, for the time, about 2 m., 72, 55, 362, 366; 73, 453. Work commenced, 73, 453. Drawings showing constr. of revet., 73, 455.

Horse Tail Bar, near St. Louis, constr. of 4 jetties, contracting waterway to w. of from 1,500' to 1,800'; also dam closing Carroll Isld. Slough; jetties from 6' to 8' above extreme l. w., composed of brush mats or rafts, with st. ballast, 73, 448, 470, 476; 74, 327, 336. Work commenced, 74, 60, 324. Training walls compared with cross dikes, 77, 508.

By Lt. Col. Reynolds, 1872, mouth of Missouri to Ohio (proj. not given); reference, 73, 448, 469; 76, 645.

By Col. Macomb, 1875, St. Paul to mouth of Illinois R. to l.-w. d. of from 4½' to 6' (being part of Third Subdivision Mississippi River, Transportation Routes to Seaboard) by contraction and direction of the R., protection of shores, and closing of chutes with wing dams and training dikes, aided by scraping at bars, 75, ii, 462, 466, 467; 76, ii, 179. The work to be carried on by purchase of material in open market and hired labor until, at least, experience should indicate proper basis for contracts, 75, ii, 467. List of bars bet. St. Paul and La Crosse requiring imp., 77, 529; bet. La Crosse and Montrose, 76, ii, 180.

By Col. Simpson, 1875, bet. mouths of Illinois and Ohio Rs. (part of Third Subdivision Mississippi, Transportation Routes to Seaboard); l.-w. d. to be obtained as follows: Mouth of Illinois R. to St. Louis, 6'; from St. Louis to mouth of Ohio R., 8', 75, ii, 483. Consideration of physical characteristics of R. in connection with plans for imp., 75, ii, 471, 491. Requirements for maintaining navigable chan., 75, ii, 485; undertaking so large that policy and economy required imp. of worst points first, 75, ii, 489, 492. General plan for permanent imp. of natural chan. with l.-w. dams and dikes, composed of brush foundations, with riprap superstr., closing secondary chans., and bringing R. into single chan. of moderate w.; critical and uncertain operations to be carried on by hired labor, otherwise by contract, 75, ii, 489, 494, 495. List of points requiring work, 75, ii, 492. Necessary operations divided into those of imp. of chan. and protection of banks, 75, ii, 493; 76, 643, 654; 77, 508, 512. Work to be done in 4 years, at cost for imp. of chan., $3,159,200; protection of banks, $4,000,000, 75, 481, ii, 493; 76, 643, 654; 77, 508, 512.

By Col. Simpson, 1876, protection of banks at Kaskaskia Bend; danger of Mississippi effecting a junction with Kaskaskia not considered imminent; danger of attempting protection with small app. ($5,000); est. cost of proper protection, $42,000, 76, 81, 643, 649. Increased necessity of protection from increased erosion, 77, 81, 509.

By Col. Simpson, 1876, protection of banks near Cairo; bet. Dickeys Isld. and mouth of Ohio R. with brush rafts or mats, ripped up with st.; 11,500 l. f. requiring protection; est., $172,500, 76, 643, 651, 653. Work began in 1876, 77, 511.

By Col. Macomb, 1875, vicinity of Ft. Madison, Iowa, closing Niota Chute with dam 1,400' l. and 8' above l. w.; dam of brush foundation and riprap; also removal of small ledge of r. near Niota side, with dr. through bar to facilitate scour, 76, 688, 690.

PLANS. (See Projects.)

In view of its ultimate inclusion in the general proj. for imp. of this section of the R., Maj. Miller, in 1888, did not recom. any separate imp. at Rush Isld. Bend and Ivy Landing, Ill., 88, 1452.

PROJECTS. (See Plans.)

Object of imp. of R. from mouth of Illinois R. to mouth of Ohio R., 241 m., to obtain min. d. at standard l. w. of 6' from mouth of Illinois R. to St. Louis, about 54 m., thence to mouth of Ohio, about 187 m., a l. w. d. of 8'.

General plan contemplated making imp. continuous, beginning at St. Louis and working downstream, by reducing R. to approx. uniform w. of 2,500'.

Methods employed silt-arresting devices, whereby the solid material caught from the R. deposited to form new shore lines, which, together with the natural banks of the R., are protected where necessary from caving and erosion by a revet. of brush and st. Est., $16,997,100.

Dam completed to 10' above l. w. in 1874, 75, 447.

In 1881 Maj. Ernst proposed removal of shoal in front of Alton Landing with deflecting dike from Missouri shore and above the head of Ellis Isld. Est., $120,000, 81, 1573; 82, 1644.

At Cape Girardeau, Mo., Maj. Ernst proposed, in 1881, an 8' chan. bet. Cape Girardeau and Minton's Pt., with hurdle dikes from the end of Devils Isld., near Minton's Pt., and from Illinois shore opposite Cape Girardeau; est., $129,000, 81, 1585, 1598; 82, 1650. Plate xx, p. 1654.

Aggregate amount app. to June 30, 1890, $4,129,600; est. for completion, 1890, $12,557,500, 90, 1969.

PROJECTS.

Works of imp. so effective at Horsetail Bar (formerly probably one of the worst localities) that this locality is omitted from the list of those at which soundings are taken by steamboat men, 96, 1719.

Act 1896 contained mandatory clause that $30,000, or as much of this amount as might be necessary, should be spent to remove the bar in front of Chester, Ill., and to protect w. bank opposite Chester, 97, 2014. Act also provided that $50,000 might be spent for bank protection on e. side of the R. opposite mouth of Missouri R., 97, 2021, and act of Mar. 3, 1899, $50,000, 99, 2065.

Act June 3, 1896, provided that as much as might be necessary of the available funds should be applied to constr. of drs., portable jetties, and other suitable appliances; and mainten. and operation of same, with view to obtain and maintain chan., St. Louis to Cairo, not less than 9' x 250' at all periods of the year except when navigation would be closed by ice, 98, 1709.

Development of various forms of constr. used and résumé of the various types used bet. 1872 and 1894, 94, 1577. Minor changes, 95, 2059; 96, 1717; 97, 2012; 98, 1698.

App. of $1,000,000 an. recom., 1899-1900, by Capt. Burr for intelligently and economically carrying on the work, 00, 2639.

Capt. Burr est., 1899, $174,000 to prevent cutting and caving of the banks, etc., at and near Wagners Landing, Ill., 00, 2671.

By BERRH., 1903, for estab. and mainten. of chan. 8 x 200', and wider at bends, bet. St. Louis and Cairo, and 6' bet. St. Louis and mouth of Missouri; est., by contraction works and bank protection, $20,000,000, and $400,000 an. for mainten. by dr., $450,000 for plant, $250,000 an. for operation of plant, and $300,000 an. for other work until results of dr. be known, 04, 2147.

By Maj. Casey, 1905, expend. available balance on emergency work, care of plant, drs., etc., and 1905 app. of $650,000 on alteration of drs., building 2 drs., dr. and contingent expenses, 05, 1589.

Maj. Casey believes that an. expend. of $500,000 or $600,000 would be cheaper in the end, than to complete "present" proj. at cost of $22,000,000, 05, 1590.

Act Mar. 3, 1905, au. dr. which virtually would stop all constr. work, 06, 1403.

Col. Bixby suggested, 1908, constr. of a series of weirs, dams, andrevet. to raise l.-w. plane at and above St. Louis; est., $1,300,000, 09, 1609.

Act June 25, 1910, restores plan adopted 1881, together with dr., with view to completion within 12 years, 10, 620.

Description of locality, 00, 2675.

PROJECTS.

Congress, by sundry-civil act June 4, 1897, on information not obtained from the Engineer Dept., provided money to prevent the Mississippi from breaking into Cache R., near Cairo. Maj. Hand-bury submitted a proj. for revetting the bank from a point a short distance above the nearest point to Beechridge Station, as far as the funds would permit, after building a short hurdle to protect the revet., 97, 2047; 98, 1732.

Capt. Burr believed, 1899: (1) There was no immediate danger of the Mississippi R. breaking through into Cache R. at or near Beechridge, Ill., but there was danger of the partial or complete destruction of the incomplete work already begun for the prevention of caving of the bank at that place. (2) It would be desirable to make specific app. to protect the banks of the Mississippi R. at Beechridge, Ill. (3) It might cost $216,000 to make the desired imp., 00, 2676, 2677.

Convened, 1872, to ex. and report on condition of R. bet. Alton and mouth of Meramee R., with view to preparation of plans for imp. of * * * St. Louis H. and protection of banks * * * near St. Louis, 72, 54, 358. Recom. imp. of H. by ultimately making e. shore throughout entire l. of H. parallel to city front, reducing w. of R. to 1,200' or 1,500' with longitudinal dikes or jetties. PRIVATE (CITY) WORK.

By St. Louis, to protect H., 71, 321; expending, up to 1869, $340,121, 71, 59.

Encroachment of city on waterway, 75, 66, 497, 511, 513.

PROJECTS. (See Estimates and Plans.)

Early proj. for imp. H., 71, 321.

Capt. Allen, 1871, reported preferable plan to be contraction of waterway, consistent with stable regimen, with longitudinal dikes throughout entire l. of H., 71, 326.

Chief of Engineers, 1872, regarded fav. canalizing of entire l. of H., 72, 348.

BE., 1872, considered that, ultimately, the R. throughout l. of H. should be made to flow in a permanent chan. with jetties or longitudinal dikes, bringing e. shore parallel with the w. and distant therefrom from 1,200' to 1,500'. Demands of C. required R. from Bischoffs Diike to East St. Louis Levee to be confined within above-named limits, by the raising and extension of Venice and Long Dikes; est., $197,324, 72, 55, 364, 366. Began in 1872, 73, 54, 454.

Closing Cahokia Chute chan. e. of Arsenal Isld.; ultimate necessity, 75, 504.

Action of city of St. Louis in building dike from shore into w. chan. of Arsenal Isld. complicated question of closing Cahokia Chute, 75, 503, 511; producing erosion of Arsenal Isld. and unfav. affecting imp. at Horsetail Bar, 76, 81, 637.

Rapid destruction of Arsenal Isld. made its protection and the closing of Cahokia Chute imperative; est., $104,600, 76, 642. Work began, 77, 81, 505.

Danger to H. and shipping from ice from throwing entire volume of R. through w. chan. necessitating raising of dike and formation of winter H. in pool below dike, e. of Arsenal Isld., 77, 81, 505.

By Maj. Miller, 1888, removal of bars in upper H. with 19,800 l. f. of permeable pile and brush contraction works; est., $181,863, 89, 1712.

PROJECTS.

Works of imp. effective, 93, 2203; 98, 1743.

Orig. adopted proj., not materially changed at 1893, was for rectification of waterway by means of wing and closing dams, to obtain scour, and for chan. of sufficient w., and d. of $4\frac{1}{2}$ ' at l. w.; approx. cost being \$20,000 per m., chan. d. to be eventually increased to 6'. Provision also made for removal of bowlders, dr. and constr. of piers at Rock Isld. Rapids. Custom is to select, when funds are available, such localities for imp. as at the time seem most detrimental to navigation, and the existing proj. may be considered one of general imp. and the execution of detailed plans for special localities. At 1898 recent acts of Congress had been directed to imp. of certain portions of the R. by preventing overflow over natural and other banks, thus contemplating the utilization of forces exerted at h. w. for d. chan., 93, 2201, 2203; 98, 1748.

PLANS. (See Estimates and Projects.)

Of imp. previous to 1867, "removing obstrs." on rapids, 66, iii, 36; by w., d., and straightening chan., by removing r. from R. bed, 67, 264, 324, 325, 335. Rejected by Capt. Wilson, requiring too long to complete, too expensive, and inadequate, 67, 264, 280.

Of Lt. Col. J. H. Wilson, subsequently modified and recom. by BE.

Plans examined by Board as follows: 67, 324; "for imp. natural chan. of R. by excavating r.," 67, 324, 350; rejected as costly and inadequate, 67, 325, 335. "For dams entirely across R., with locks for SS. and chutes for rafts, creating slack-water navigation," 67, 326, 350; rejected as destroying present navigation during average and h. w., 67, 328.

Of G. Edmunds, jr., "being a dam from isld. at upper chain to Illinois shore, with wall from w. end of dam, and running parallel with Iowa shore, etc.," 67, 329, 350; rejected as experimental and inadequate, 67, 333. For "an excavated shore chan. on Iowa side, with an exterior (R.) embankment," 67, 333, 350; compared with plan recom. by BE., 67,

See p. 1068.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER. See special index, p. 1071.

343; rejected on account of cost, 67, 335. For a similar imp. on Illinois side, 67, 333. For "a canal imp. on Illinois side" (similar in constr. to canal recom. on Iowa side), 67, 342, 350; compared with plan recom. by BE., 67, 345; would require dam across R. at head of canal, or else excavation of r. from bed of R., 67, 342, 348; rejected on account of the dam destroying navigation of R. during average and h. w., and increased cost from excavation of r. in bed of R., 67, 342, 348. For "Livermore's imp. chutes," 67, 348; rejected as experimental, 67, 349. For "Brunot imp. float gate for sluices in dams;" not a proper plan of imp., but Board deemed it of sufficient value to call attention of dept. to it, 67, 349.

PROJECTS. (See Estimates and Plans.)

Lt. Lee, 1837, natural chan. of R., excavation of r. to 4' below l. w. of 1864, and for w. of 200'; plan partly carried out by removal of about 25,000 c. y. of r., costing $350,000, 66, iii, 36; 67, 264, 273, 324, 335. Considered by Col. Wilson as requiring too much time for completion, too expensive, and inadequate, 67, 264, 280, 324, 335.

Lt. Col. J. H. Wilson (35th Infantry), 1867, for lateral canal 300' w., 6' d. on Iowa side, Keokuk to Nashville (7.6 m.), with 2 lifts and 1 guard lock; embankments 20' w. at top, carried 4' above h. w., and protected inside and out with riprap, the canal connecting with a through cut along natural chan. of upper chain, the through cut to be 5' (or 6') x 200' d., 67, 36, 264, 281, 282, 335. Modified by BE. May 13, 1867, viz, embankment to be reduced to 10' w. at top, to be carried 2' above h. w., canal to be reduced in excavation to w. of 250', the riprap on canal side of the embankment to be carried to 12' above canal bottom, the canal to have a minimum d. of 5' and a maximum of 8', lock chambers to remain as fixed by Lt. Col. Wilson (80' x 350'), reverse gates at outlet unnecessary; the through cut along natural chan. of upper chain to be further investigated by engineer in charge; details not fixed on to be left to be arranged by engineer in charge, subject to approv. of dept., 67, 36, 265, 307, 350. Approv. by Sec. of War, concurred in by Chief of Engineers, 67, 36, 265. Pier at lower lock changed from 300' to 150' l., 71, 267. (Col. Maccomb, Lt. Col. Wilson, Maj. Warren, W. M. Roberts, U. S. C. E., and Capt. Hains.)

Closed canal so far completed, 1877, as to permit passage of boats; opened to navigation Aug. 22, 1877, 78, 101, 739, 742. In 1880 it was proposed to raise side walls of middle lock and build 2 guiding cribs at guard lock, 80, 1562; 84, 1577. In 1894, proposed to place 2 sluices opposite largest creek to prevent silt being carried into canal, 84, 1577; 86, 1467.

In 1882 Maj. Mackenzie proposed constr. of dry dock in connection with canal 100' x 400', and located on R. side of canal above middle lock; est., $125,000, 83, 1422, 1423.

From 1856 to 1886, $4,517,950 had been app. for constr. of canal and chan. through rapids, $360,500 for mainten. and operation of canal, and $108,750 for constr. of dry dock, leaving amount required to complete canal proj. $101,745, and dry dock, $16,250, 86, 1467, 1469, 1478.

In 1889 Maj. Mackenzie proposed raising lock walls of lower lock, constr. of an office building at lower lock, r. excavation above guard lock, sluice constr., and protection of outside slope of canal embankment; est., $47,194, 89, 1768.

Proj. completed in 1892, 92, 1772.

Maj. Townsend reported, 1902, that l. and d. at foot of Des Moines Rapids, such as was proposed to be built by private interests would probably imp. navigation over the canal and locks, also that there seemed to be no necessity, present or prospective, of increasing size of locks; cost of such enlargement about $1,000,000, 93, 1500.

PRIVATE WORK.

Chan. dr., 1884, d. by private enterprise, 84, 1831.

PROJECTS. (See Estimates and Plans.)

By BE., 1881, forming H. of refuge, Grand Marais, Mich., by providing access to the B. through 2 parallel ps., 1,550' and 1,900', resp., with a dr. chan. bet. them of 20' x 500' at its lake end, and 18' x 300' at its H. end; est., $450,000, 81, 2053; 87, 1999; 91, 2510.

By Maj. Sears, amending existing proj. to provide close-pile dike across the interval bet. the e. p. and the e. shore; total est., $484,000, 95, 2577; 12, 971.

By Maj. Sears, 1899, expend. app. 1899 in extending e. p., and in extensive repairing of old ps., 99, 2720.

Maj. Potter est., 1905, that owing to advance of 22' curve lakeward 400'-500' since proj. to extend ps. out to 22' was au. would require an addition of 360' to w. p.; est., $40,320—and of 704' to e. p.; est., $78,848; or about $36,000 more than orig. est. As sand movement is generally from w. to e., w. p. should be extended first, when full extension of e. p. may be found unnecessary, 05, 2008.

Est. for extending ps. to 22' revised, 1907, by Maj. Fitch, to $43,200 for w. p., and $84,480 for e. p., or about $44,512 more than orig. est., 07, 1864.

Lt. Col. Fitch est., 1909, that to extend ps. to 22' would require l. w. p. 450'; est., $54,000—and e. p. 794'; est., $95,280; or total of $149,280, exceeding orig. est. by about $103,879. The 22' curve has advanced lakeward 500'-600' since proj. was au., 09, 1938.

Diagram of relation of freight t., value, and app., 02, 2008; 05, 1984; 12, 2460.

1911, 30,672,846 t. From 1867 to 1911, t. totaled 365,865,859 t. T. 87% of that which passed the Sault locks same year of 1911. Cost of U.S. works about one-sixth of 1% of the value of the freight traffic. An. expense by U.S. about 1¢ for each ton of t. for 1911; and about one-half of 1% of the saving in cost of transportation by water as compared with rail, 1911. Effect of U.S. works, in 1911, to save about $1.92 per t., or about $58,891,864. Some of this saving should be credited, of course, to U.S. works making other Great Lakes chans. usable with Duluth H. The fact that the U.S. chans. of the Great Lakes are available to shippers keeps down freight rates on R.Rs. contiguous—this is in addition to the preceding advantages. 12, 953.

PROJECTS.

In 1896 Maj. Sears est. $7,050,000 to constr. barge canal 80' w. at the water surface and 59' w. at the bottom, and 7' d., along route No. 1, exclusive of the cost of compensation for the vested rights of the logging interests; $10,575,715 to constr. a canal of similar dimensions along route No. 3, exclusive of compensation for the vested rights of water companies for the use of the water of the St. Louis R.; and $18,015,112 to constr. a SS. canal along the same route 100' w. at bottom, 121' w. at water surface, and 7' d. If the terminal for the waterway should be near St. Paul, route No. 3 would cost $19,000,000 more for barges and, if practicable, $30,000,000 for SS., 96, 2394.

Maj. Sears reported, 1899, that canal costing about $7,000,000 was feasible, but that because of the proximity of many well-equipped R.R. lines, and the great cost of canal transportation as compared with other methods, the constr. of the canal not a public necessity, 00, 3614.

Approx. est. of reimbursement of dam and water companies, 00, 3628.

(from abrasion by freshets and storms) by sheet piling; est., $155,416.77, 66, iv, 134, 136; 68, 28. Discussion of merits, 67, 70. Subsequently completed by the constr. of close piling, within the orig. est., 74, 140; 75, 195.

By Maj. Houston, 1872, dr. cut to w. and d. it to 14' throughout, 175,000 c. y.; est., $50,000, 72, 31, 116; 73, 198; subsequently increased to $75,000, 74, 38, 140; small an. app. necessary for the maintenance of the chan. by dr., 74, 141; 75, 42.

By Maj. Robert, 1876, expend. of the app. of 1876 ($8,000); piling for the protection of the e. p.; est., $2,650; the remainder for dr., 76, ii, 338. Est. amount required for the completion of the existing proj., $18,000, 79, 152.

Maj. Robert, 1881, proposed dr. chan. 14' x 200', revised datum, mouth of Fox R. to d. w. in Green B., 240,000 c. y.; est., $72,000, 81, 2070.

In 1892 the existing proj. was modified to increase the chan. d. to 16' and to extend it to a total l. of 16,500'; est., $91,915, 92, 2181; 93, 2711, 2712.

Act of 1892 provided $5,000 from app. for Green B. to be expend. at the discretion of the Sec. of War for imp. of Fox R. below Depere; chan. 13' x 150' dr., 93, 2712; 96, 2470. Act of 1896 provided an addl. $5,000 in the same manner, and was used to increase d. to 15'; 96, 2470.
